Campfire Ashes from 737 Campfires and 46 Countries

Ceremony of the Campfire Ashes

These ashes unite Scouters around the world as a symbol of the World Brotherhood of Scouting. These ashes have been mingled with the ashes from scouting campfires all around the world. They have previously mingled with the ashes from campfires from World Jamborees, National and Provincial Jamborees. They have come from Scout troop campouts, Courts of Honor, Arrow of Light ceremonies, Jamborees, Camporees, District training events, Wood Badge and Order of the Arrow campfires. They have come from many nations around the world that share in the brotherhood of scouting.

These ashes remind us of the Scouts and Scouters from long ago; their dreams, their goals, their ideals and their hope in a future that scouting helps shape. We are a part of this brotherhood. Let us seek dreams for the future: let us claim goals, let our hearts burn with noble ideals. Let us never forget the strength scouting has built into our character.

These ashes will be added to our future campfires, that we may be remembered to the scouts of tomorrow who collect the ashes. So let us not forget that we are living a legacy for them.

By tradition, campfire ashes are collected from Scouting events and carried to subsequent events where they are sprinkled into the flames of succeeding fires. If more than one Scout brings ashes to the same campfire, the histories of the ashes are pooled into a common list showing the dates, events and places represented by the ashes. It is also traditional that only those present at the campfire may be given ashes from that fire. In this way, the fellowship and spirit of past campfires are passed on to participants at current events.

These ashes have been gathered by American Scouts and Scouters in their travels around the world. They contain remnants of campfires at the Scouting activities in the list attached.

Now they are yours

You may stash them with your memorabilia as an occasional reminder of your pledge as a Scout, and for memories of campfires shared. Or you may share them at coming campfires for inspiration, as a gift to the spirit of scouting in years to come.
